Training for School Staff

Trainings are completed throughout the year to educate staff on the value of parent input and contributions. The trainings will provide strategies for reaching out and communicating with parents, and working with parents as equal partners in improving student academics.

School Level Parental Involvement Policy Components

The school will involve parents in the planning, review, and improvement of Title I programs. The school will offer a number of meetings in an organized, ongoing, and timely manner, and at various times. In addition, in an effort to ensure full parental participation, the school may provide funds for transportation, child-care, and translation as deemed necessary.

Title I Parent and Family Engagement Plan

Our Mission Statement

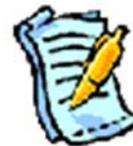

Our mission is to bring together our diverse families, school, and community in order to empower parents and families to become proactive in their child's education to sustain academic growth and achievement. We believe that parent and family engagement is a driving force in a child's education and is a shared responsibility. We are committed to working jointly with parents and families to develop a plan for activities and workshops that support high quality instruction needed for all learners to be successful. We will host multiple curriculum nights aligned to standards in order to model instructional strategies for home and school..

Annual Title I Meeting

Each year the school will conduct an annual meeting designed to inform parents of the school's Title I program, Adequate Yearly Progress, supplemental educational services, and the rights of parents. The meeting will conclude with a parent survey to measure their understanding of the information shared in the meeting.

School-Parent-Student Compact

The school will jointly develop, with parents, a school-parent compact that outlines how parents, school staff, and students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement.

Sources of Parent Communication

Student agendas are used by teachers to communicate with parents on a daily basis. In addition, flyers, monthly newsletters, Connect Orange phone messages, texts, emails, and the school's marquee and website are used to communicate with parents about school-wide curriculum/assessment information and on-going academic events and important meeting opportunities.

Flexibility of Meetings

We offer parent meetings at various times throughout the year. Parent meetings are scheduled based on the availability of the parent. In addition, translation services and child-care services are provided as deemed necessary.
